ITINERARY 8

Monteggiori and Sant'Anna di Stazzema

Length:	37,3 km
Altitude peak:	653 metres
Total rise:	797 metres
Degree of difficulty:	●●●●○
Ideal period:	May/September
Excursion time:	about 2 hours

Starting from Viareggio sea-front near Galliano Café, take Via Marco Polo going towards Camaiore until the first roundabout. Here turn left in Via Aurelia. After about 1 km at the third roundabout turn right and take Via Italica. Go straight on and at the traffic lights turn left towards Pietrasanta. After the residential area of Capezzano Pianore, at the roundabout turn right following road signs to Monteggiori. This is probably the hardest slope in Versilia with a gradient close to 12% but fortunately it is short (about 3 km). In Monteggiori the road becomes flat and if you turn right you can reach the lovely village of Santa Lucia that is well worth a visit, in particular for the pleasant view. Unfortunately the road ends here, and you have to turn back. Turn right and after 300 metres turn left towards Sant'Anna di Stazzema, that you'll reach after 6,5 km. This slope is hard until the hamlet of La Culla, but the view over Camaiore (and more) is well worth the sweat. Here you'll find a little descent and another slope along Mount Gabberi crag until Sant'Anna Church, where on 12th August 1944 the human barbarity reached one of the most deep abyss.

The victims of the terrible carnage were 560. Inside the Church there are the photos of all the children killed. Sant'Anna di Stazzema is gold medallist for the Resistance. Following the same itinerary you'll return to the starting point.
